Resilient Access works seamlessly with Box to enable granular security, strong authentication, and user lifecycle management for enhanced sharing and governance. Resilient Network Systems has developed deep integrations with Box for enterprises and government agencies to securely share the files and folders they have in their Box accounts with a community of users outside of Box, controlled through access policies that are enforced by Resilient Access.

The following two videos give a brief overview of Resilient Access for Box in action.

Overview Video

YouTube Video

Creating access policies for your files and folders in Box

YouTube Video